NEWS REGARDING: Indiana Certified Crop Adviser Award
Nominations due November 1, 2023

FROM: Mershon Tobin - Indiana Certified Crop Adviser Program
Administrator

We would like your help in nominating a qualified CCA you work with for the "Indiana Certified Crop Adviser of the Year Award" for 2023. This award will recognize an individual who has performed superior service for you in nutrient management, soil and water management, pest management and crop production.

The award will be presented to the winner at the 2023 Indiana Certified Crop Adviser Conference on December 13-14, 2022. The nominator, if not the nominee's employer, that submits the winning application will receive $250 and the CCA winner will receive $1,500. In addition, the winner will be nominated to the International CCA Board for consideration for the International CCA of the Year Award with an honorarium of $2,000.

The purpose of our Indiana award program is to increase awareness that farmers and their service people strive to do their best, not only in making economically sound cropping decisions, but also ones that are environmentally sound. With increasing farm size, complexity of management options, and increasingly complex regulations, we foresee farmers relying more and more on the advice of specialists who are CCAs.

To be considered for the Indiana Certified Crop Adviser Award, a CCA must be certified in Indiana and nominated by a client, a colleague, or the employer of the CCA who knows their qualifications.

A nomination form, letter of recommendation form, and tips for completing the nomination are included. Please feel free to copy and distribute to those who might be using services of a CCA.

The nomination should include

- the nomination form,
- three letters of recommendation- one from the CCA's employer and two from customers. Three letters of recommendation may come from customers if the CCA is self-employed.

Indiana CCA must receive the nomination by November 1, 2023. If you have any questions, please contact Mershon Tobin at 1.217.762.7955.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND TIPS FOR COMPLETING CCA AWARD NOMINATION

Purpose: The Indiana Certified Crop Adviser Award is designed to recognize a certified crop adviser who delivers exceptional customer service, is highly innovative, has shown that they are a leader in their field, and has contributed substantially to the exchange of ideas and the transfer of agronomic knowledge within the agriculture industry.

Minimum Standards: Nominees must be a Certified Crop Adviser, certified in Indiana and in good standing. The CCA must be nominated by a client, colleague, or employer with first-hand knowledge of the quality of work the CCA has performed. The nomination should include the nomination form, and three recommendation forms. (Two recommendation forms should be from customers and one from the employer. If the CCA is self-employed, three letters are needed from customers).

Selection Committee: The Selection Committee will be comprised of three representatives of the Indiana CCA Board, plus a representative of Indiana Farm Bureau.

Tips:

1. Typed forms are preferred.
2. The main question to answer is: What is this CCA doing that is over and above what others are doing, unique, or cutting-edge? We are looking for specific examples.
3. Here are some suggestions for the nomination form:
 - For question number 3, try to include situations where the CCA is involved in daily field decisions and crop production advice. For example, state the number of customers, type of crops, number of acres on which the CCA is advising, number of locations for which they are responsible, running plot trials, etc.
 - In question number 4, try to include activities like writing a customer newsletter, organizing a meeting of customers to review the past year's successes and failures, holding field days to highlight new technologies and emerging issues, etc. These activities should be things that other CCAs are not routinely doing.
 - Question number 5 asks for a list of the CCA's program involvement. This could be serving on a CCA committee, writing articles for publication, ensuring CCA decals are on all company vehicles and office windows, distributing CCA brochures to producers, etc.
 - Question number 6 is an opportunity to highlight some of the other community activities in which the CCA may be involved. For example, sports teams/coaching, local Soil & Crop Improvement Association, Ag in the Classroom, local hospital boards, involvement in charities, etc.
